New Clinic Location Set to Open Mid-October

Peak Performance Physical Therapy on track to open in Mason

Lansing, Mich. – Peak Performance Physical Therapy, specialists in orthopedic manual physical therapy, is set to open their new Mason clinic location on Oct. 15 at 132 South Cedar St. Mason, MI, 48854.

Jill Marlan, CEO and Founder of Peak Performance Physical Therapy, expressed her excitement about the new location opening stating, “With everything that has gone on this year, we couldn’t be more grateful to be on track with opening our doors in Mason in October. This year has been difficult for everyone and to have the community backing us means the world to us.”

Peak Performance Physical Therapy is still set to kick off the new Mason clinic opening with an in-person ribbon-cutting ceremony soon after opening. The ribbon-cutting will take place outside, and every participant in attendance is required to practice social distancing and wear a mask. The peak performance team will take every precautionary measure possible to keep those in attendance safe. The new location will also host a virtual open house so the community and those interested can do a virtual walkthrough, celebrate the opening with us, and get to know our staff. This will be one virtual open house you won’t want to miss. Follow along on Facebook to never miss a moment.

The new location comes at high demand and as a way to better meet the needs of patients in the community. Peak Performance Physical Therapy is dedicated to maintaining and expanding its expertise in the Greater Lansing area. The new location will provide a full range of physical therapy services with one-on-one personal attention to help patients excel and achieve their goals.

Peak Performance Physical Therapy currently has three clinical locations, in Lansing, Okemos, and Dewitt with two athletic training locations at Lansing Community College and Great Lakes Christian College.
